HEIKE'S MIND CLEAN BLANK

Sugar Trust Official and Havemeyer's Own Man Has a Lapse.

PROBE COMMITTEE GETS LITTLE NEWS

Confidential Man of King of the Trust Close as an Oyster.

Washington, June 14.—An attempt to discover the secret of the power of the late Henry O. Havemeyer, who for years was the controlling genius of the American Sugar Refining company, failed again today when the house "Sugar Trust" investigating committee cross examined Charles R. Heike, supposed confidante of the "sugar king" and Secretary of the company until his indictment in connection with the recent sugar customs frauds. Edwin F. Atkins, acting head of the corporation, had testified that Mr. Havemeyer had ruled the concern with holdings of $200,000 of a total of $90,000,000. Mr. Heike protested that he knew nothing of the operations of Mr. Havemeyer.

Havemeyer Ruled—That's All.

President Havemeyer ran the business, the witness said. He denied that he had such confidential relations with Mr. Havemeyer as to be able to testify now about the business of former days.

"As a matter of fact," inquired Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, "were you not from the time of the organization of the company down to Mr. Havemeyer's death, his confidential assistant?"

"No, sir," said Mr. Heike emphatically.

Mr. Heike said he owned 50 shares in the American. He was asked to give a history of the organization of the company, but professed his inability to tell why the merger was en-

PLAGUE SHIP IN NEW YORK HARBOR

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT

New York, June 14.—A ship with a true case of cholera came to port today. The Italian line steamship Europa from Genoa and Naples dropped anchor off quarantine and reported that a steerage passenger named Agostino Tastolla was on board suffering from cholera. The patient is on his way to recovery. The Europa with its 77 cabin passengers and 363 steerage will be held at quarantine for the present. Tastolla is from Calabria and on June 5, four days after leaving Naples, reported ill. The royal Italian commissioner on board reported that the man passed through all the stages of the disease and preserved specimens for examination by Health Commissioner Doty.

The patient will be removed to Swinburn island and the Europa will be disinfected. The steamship Berlin arrived yesterday from Italian ports and reported that a steerage passenger, also from Calabria, had died from cholera on board a few days after leaving Naples.

The Berlin was released from quarantine this morning, the stewards having been transferred to Hoffman island. The crew will remain on board the Berlin under observation of the ship's surgeon. No new cases have developed.

RE-ELECTED TO SCHOOL BOARD

ERNEST W. COOK.

Mr. Cook was re-elected by the city council Tuesday evening for a third term of three years as a member of the board of Fort Wayne school trustees. Other members of the board are J. McBeth Smith and W. H. Shambaugh.

FARRELL TO BE CALLED

House Committee Wants the Head of Steel Trust to Explain.

LOWER PRICE OF RAILS TO CANADA

Trust Sells Them Cheaper Abroad Than in the Home Market.

Washington, June 14.—Determined to discover why the United States Steel Corporation could sell steel rails abroad cheaper than at home, the "steel trust" investigating committee of the house today practically announced its intention of summoning James A. Farrell, president of the corporation, to explain the situation.

James Gayley, former vice president of the corporation, acknowledged he could not tell and referred the committee to Mr. Farrell, who for years had been in charge of the export business of the concern.

Farrell Can Tell.

Mr. Gayley was asked to explain why prices of rails quoted to the Canadian Pacific railroad were lower since 1901 than the United States domestic rate of $28 a ton. Mr. Gayley again referred the question to President Farrell.

Mr. Gayley described at length the steel war which occurred in 1897 and 1899 during which steel rail prices started, dropping as low as $17 a ton.

"Did not that steel war in '97-'99 bring about the organization of the United States Steel Corporation?" Mr. Bartlett asked.

"I do noot think it had anything to do with it. It may have had an effect on the formation of the Federal Steel company, organized just before the steel corporation was formed."

"Do you know whether or not there is an agreement now between steel rail manufacturers whereby the territory is parcelled out?"

"I do not. If such existed, Mr. Farrell could tell you."

Carnegie's Policy Expansion.

Andrew Carnegie's policy in the conduct of his steel business before he sold to the steel corporation was made the basis for a line of inquiry.

Mr. Stanley asked Mr. Gayley for an estimate of the amount of money expended by the Carnegie company in expanding its business between 1899 and the formation of the steel corporation in 1901. Mr. Gayley said he could not give an estimate, but declared the policy of the Carnegie company always was one of expansion.

Mr. Stanley pressed the inquiry into the old agreements, seeking to discover how they had been superseded.

"It required vigilance, mutual agreements, the infliction of penalties to maintain steel prices among independent manufacturers before the organization of the steel trust, did it not?" he asked.

Reprisal Was the Policy.

"And how is it the same result does not require similar methods now?"

"The old agreements often were broken," Mr. Gayley replied, "and in those days price cutting came about as retaliation for some fancied wrong."

"Since the formation of the steel trust, have there not been fancied wrongs and efforts on the part of manufacturers to reduce prices?"

"There have not," was the emphatic reply.

"Manufacturers of steel today have been brought more closely together. They are getting better acquainted and there is more freedom of intercourse that has created a better understanding. Everything is done openly and frankly now, whereas before each manufacturer worked secretly."

FLAG DAY IS OBSERVED.

Indiana Capital Makes Free Display of Old Glory.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 14.—The American flag is waving from the majority of the business houses down town and from many residences today, the 134th anniversary of the adoption of the stars and stripes by the continental congress as the national emblem. In all the public schools "the story of the flag," a pamphlet on the history of the banner was read this morning and at some of the buildings programs were given. At the Indianapolis Orphans' home school a number of questions concerning the flag have been prepared for submission to the children.

RULING SETS ASIDE FINE.

Judge Sustains Motion to Arrest Judgment in Libel Case.

Hartford City, Ind., June 14.—Judge C. E. Sturgis yesterday sustained the motion in arrest of judgment filed by attorneys for C. A. Reeves in the criminal libel suit tried in the circuit court last week. The effect of the ruling is to set aside the verdict of the jury assessing a fine of $500. The case was immediately refiled. Counsel for Reeves say the action had been improperly brought. No ruling was made on the pleas in abatement in the three other pending cases.

SOUTHERN EDITORS IN SESSION.

Louisville, Ky., June 14.—The southern newspaper publishers' association devoted the entire morning of the second and last day of its convention to consideration of newspaper making problems that confront "the men behind the boys in the trenches," as Henry Watterson expressed it. The day social program consists of a luncheon and later a banquet at the Louisville Country club.

MISS LILLIAN GRAHAM — MISS ETHEL CONRAD

New York, June 14.—Bail in the cases of Lillian Graham, a chorus girl, and Ethel Conrad, an illustrater, charged with the shooting of W. E. D. Stokes, the millionaire horseman, was reduced today from $25,000 to $15,000 each in the westside court. A further reduction in bail will be asked for. Stokes is rapidly recovering.

INDIANA SYSTEM HAS WORKED WELL

END OF CONVENTION

Boston, June 14.—"Indiana's experience is now great enough to enable us to say that many men and women offenders can be reclaimed to useful lives without imprisonment by correct probationary treatment," said Amos W. Butler, secretary of the State Board of Charities of Indiana, in an address before the National Conference of Charities and Correction here today.

"Probation and parole are often used synonymously," said the speaker, "while in fact authorities and prison officials recognize a distinction. Probation applies to one conditionally released after conviction but before entering upon his sentence. Parole is understood to be conditional release of a prisoner from an institution after the serving of sentence has begun.

"The Indiana probation law applies in three different ways; to felons, to misdemeanors, to juvenile delinquents. A person who is convicted of a felony is sentenced to the state prison or a reformatory. The sentence may be suspended and he be released on probation. If the offense is a misdemeanor, the court may suspend judgment and release the offender upon such terms and conditions as in his judgment and discretion seem right and proper. Juvenile delinquents may be released by the court upon probation and placed under care of probation officers.

"What has been worked out in one place and another as to the best methods and practice in the care of children is being applied to adults who are subjects for probation."

Final Section Meetings.

Final section meetings of the thirty-eighth annual conference were held today in the various halls around Beacon Hill. New phases of the questions which have occupied the attention of the delegates during the past week were taken up during the day.

At the meeting in Lorimer hall, Dr. Frederick Bierhoff, of the Red Cross hospital, read a paper on "Venereal Diseases," and Mrs. Putnam, of Boston, talked of "Pre-natal Care."

Those delegates interested in "Housing and Health," "Organization and Correlation of Systems of Probation and Parole" was the subject of the meeting in Pilgrim hall. The meeting was in the nature of a formal discussion.

The conference will close tonight with a general session in Ford hall.

Secretary Johnson Re-Elected.

Judge Julian W. Mack, formerly of Chicago, was unanimously elected president of the National Conference of Charities and Corrections for its thirty-ninth year. Frederick Almy, of Buffalo, N. Y.; John F. Moore, of Boston, and Richard C. Cannon, of Chicago, were chosen vice presidents, and Alexander Johnson, of Fort Wayne, Ind., general secretary.

Last night's meeting was devoted to a discussion of "State Supervision," opened by Rev. Francis H. Gavisk, member of the Indiana board of state charities. The speaker said he believed enlightened public opinion was the best correction of abuses in state institutions, and that this was best created by independent supervisory bodies representing the public.

M. F. BELGER HAS GONE FROM EARTH

Well Known Fort Wayne Man Expires in Long Illness.

END CAME SUDDENLY

Michael F. Belger, for more than twenty years a well known Fort Wayne man, died shortly after 10 o'clock this morning at his home, 125 West DeWald street. Mr. Belger had in recent years been a traveling salesman for the Centlivre Brewing company, and his acquaintance extended over a wide range of territory. He was 53 years of age.

MICHAEL L. BELGER,
Well Known Fort Wayne Man Who Has Passed Away.

Death was due to Bright's disease, and while his illness had been an extended one, the end came suddenly. He had been in failing health for the past two years; and since January had been confined to his home. Recently, however, there seemed to be marked improvement in his condition that gave friends new hope. Sunday evening there was another recurrence of the unfavorable symptoms, but early today Mr. Belger, with the solicitude for his family that was a marked characteristic of the man, insisted that his children attend a wedding ceremony to which they had been invited, insisting that he would not require care. Mrs. Belger was alone with the patient when he began sinking and members of the family and Rev. Father Delaney were hurriedly summoned. Within a short time death came quietly and painlessly.

Was Native of Michigan.

Mr. Belger was a native of Michigan, born at Charlotte, February 17, 1858, grew to manhood in his native city, and in May, 1888, came to Fort Wayne with his brother-in-law, E. J. Lennon. Their purpose was to purchase the old Globe chop house, located on East Main street, for which they had been negotiating. This deal, however, was not consummated and the two embarked in the saloon business on Calhoun street under the firm name of Belger & Lennon. In July, 1895, Mr. Belger became traveling salesman for Louis Brames, of this city, a manufacturer of soft drinks. He continued in this position until in 1899, when he became a salesman for the

WILL ELECTION STAND LAW TEST?

Move to Disqualify Mrs. Leasure as DeKalb School Head.

HAS TAKEN OFFICE

[Special to The Sentinel.]

Auburn, Ind., June 14.—The opinion is expressed here, by those who have investigated the matter, that the election by the trustees of the county, held Monday of last week, of Dr. Lida Leasure, to the office of superintendent of the common schools of DeKalb county, will not stand the test of the law because at the time of the election she did not possess the qaulifications which the statutes of Indiana require of one holding the office. The statutory provision regarding county superintendents reads as follows:

"No person shall be eligible to, or shall hold office of county superintendent of schools, unless he holds at the time of his election a thirty-six months' state license, a sixty months' license, a life or a professional license to teach in the common schools of the state."

It is said by those who claim that Mrs. Leasure is not legally qualified to hold the office that at the time of her election by the trustees she did not hold such a license as the law required, and they quote the assistant state superintendent of public instruction as saying that the records at Indianapolis do not show that Mrs. Leasure has been granted a life or professional license.

Says She is Qualified.

Dr. Leasure was seen at her office by a Sentinel representative, and in an interview regarding the reports circulated, said that she held a life license to teach and that she was in every way qualified for the office to which she had been elected.

"I think," she said smilingly, "that is only a sort of a political move. I have a state license, one that I have held for years. Besides that I hold a teacher's diploma from the state normal school. I have followed teaching as a profession for years, and for two years was superintendent of the city schools. At the trustees' election the candidates were not required to present their credentials of fitness for the office and I did not present mine."

Has Entered on Duties.

But whether legally elected or not, Dr. Leasure is now, in fact, the county superintendent of schools of DeKalb county. Immediately following her election, on the afternoon of the same day, she took the oath of office and gave bond in the sum of $5,000. She has entered actively on the performance of her official duties and established offices at her home. Since qualifying she has attended four township school commencements and delivered addresses at each.

As far as general qualifications are concerned, no teacher in the state is better fitted for the duties which will be hers as county superintendent. An active school teacher for a quarter of a century, a city superintendent of schools, of fine literary talents and splendid executive ability, she combines an interest in and knowledge of school work in all its phases, that eminently fit her for the office she holds.

Should her election be declared void, without doubt she could properly qualify as an eligible can-

CAPITOL IS BUSY PLACE

House and Senate Strain at the Tariff Bills Now in Debate.

RECIPROCITY HAS SENATE OPENING

House Grapples With the Wool Schedule—The Day in Congress.

Washington, June 14.—At both ends of the capitol national legislators today championed or opposed tariff measures. In the senate Canadian reciprocity had the right of way, the proposed agreement having been reported to that body yesterday by Senator Penrose, chairman of the finance committee. Discussion of the measure, promising to extend over a period of many days, bids fair to begin in earnest for two senators, Messrs. McCumber and Curtis, had given notice that they would speak.

The house, still busy with the wool schedule, expected a number of speeches for and against the reduction in duty the democrats are striving to accomplish.

The several investigation committees continued their labors.

RECOPROCITY UNDER FIRE.

Washington, June 14.—With the prospect of daily sessions beginning at noon and continuing as long as the numerous senators who wish to be heard have anything to say, the senate today began the long discussion of the Canadian reciprocity bill. Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, vigorously opposed the measure. Not more than a dozen republicans were in their seats while only half as many democrats were present. The galleries were deserted.

SOON AFTER LORIMER.

Washington, June 14.—The senate Lorimer committee decided today to adhere to its purpose of beginning the taking of testimony Thursday, June 22. A telegram was received from Judge Elbridge Hanecy, counsel for Mr. Lorimer, saying it was uncertain whether he could be here at that time, but the committee decided against any further postponement. It is probable that former Governor Yates, of Illinois, will be the first witness as he has asked to be heard as soon as possible.

FORT WAYNE MAN PRESIDES.

Indiana Body of Local Fire Risk Men in Convention.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 14.—The annual meeting of the Indiana association of local fire insurance agents was held here today with Edward M. Taylor, former attorney general, also spoke.

TOWS AEROPLANE WITH AUTO.

New Britain, Conn., June 14.—Charles K. Hamilton, the aviator, has just completed a novel stunt. He towed an aeroplane behind his automobile from Squantum, Mass., a distance of 148 miles and made the trip in six hours. Hamilton was in a hurry to get here to be made an Elk, and could not spare the time to take the aeroplane to pieces for transportation by freight.

WOMAN HITS COOKE HARD

Lady in the Big Four Case Says Accused Man Gave Her $20,000.

WENT TO NEW YORK AND SPLIT IT UP

Cincinnati, June 14.—Mrs. Jeanette Stewart Ford, the "woman in the case," was expected to be the chief witness today in the trial of Edgar S. Cooke, who is charged with embezzling $24,000 from the Big Four Railway company. She probably was called as a witness at the completion of the testimony of Charles L. Warriner. Warriner's redirect examination was in progress when court adjourned yesterday.

Warriner in his confession charged, that Mrs. Ford received a large part of the $643,000 which he said he had taken from the railroad company. Mrs. Ford was once tried on the charge of blackmailing Warriner, but the jury failed to agree. She is still under indictment. Ever since her trial Mrs. Ford has been an invalid and she was forced to give her testimony from a wheel chair.

Startles the Court.

Mrs. Ford was called to the stand following Warriner. Before she had testified more than a few minutes she startled the court room by declaring that Cooke had given her $22,000 in cash. She also revealed the innermost secrets of her relations with the defendant, so far as the judge and the attorneys would permit.

The money, Mrs. Ford testified, was in packages. "Cooke would visit me at my flat two or three times a week," she said. "Each time he would come he brought packages which I concealed in a trunk. Later I went to New

NEWSPAPERS HAVE NOTHING TO FEAR

CIRCULATORS GATHER

Chicago, June 14.—Voicing administration views as to how the postoffice department should be run, James J. Britt, third assistant postmaster general today told the delegates to the International Circulation Managers' association, in session here, that "no honest publisher has anything to fear at the hands of the postoffice department.

"But," he added, "no dishonest publisher has anything to hope for."

He was speaking on "the uses and abuses of the second class mail privilege."

Referring to the charge made recently by Senator Jefferson Davis, of Arkansas, that one publication in this country had been practically put out of business by the postoffice department, Mr. Britt said:

"You have heard recently from some quarters that the department has, without cause, attacked several newspapers and periodicals and that a policy of officious interference with the business of publishers has been inaugurated. It is a painful fact that while the great bulk of the newspapers and periodicals of the country are honest and law-abiding, there are some that wilfully trample the law under foot and have no regard whatever for postal laws or the rights of others. If any have felt the weight of the law it is because they have invoked it, not because it has been unjustly imposed."

Regarding efforts to eliminate the annual postoffice deficit, Mr. Britt declared that the "ledgers of the department at no time should show either a deficit or a surplus, the entire service being administered on a self-sustaining basis."

A proper equalization of postal rates, he said, would easily make it possible to reduce letter postage from two cents to one cent an ounce. "The payment of fully 84 cents per pound on letters caused by the payment of 2 cents an ounce on under weight pieces," said Mr. Britt, "gives a profit which is applied to the deficit caused by deficient rates on other mail matter."

Interchange of ideas and scheme for the general benefit of newspaper circulation was continued at the second day's session of the International Circulation Managers' association here today. The association will remain until business is concluded and officers elected, probably tomorrow afternoon.

APPOINTED RANGE OFFICERS.

Capt. Clyde Driesbach, of Company D, of this city, and Capt. Spurgeon Markley, of Company C, of Columbia City, have been appointed to act as range officers at the regimental rifle shoot to be held at Fort Benjamin Harrison, June 16, 17 and 18. Batallion teams from the 1st, 2nd and 3rd batallions of the Third infantry will take part in the contests.

FEW CHANGES IN THE COMMITTEES

Two Are Changed and Some Switches Are Made by the Council.

COOK WINS THE PLACE

Few changes were made under the draft of the new rules for the government of the city council, and the number of standing committees is the same as it was before, although new names are given two, and some added duties are allotted to members of the old ones.

Instead of a committee on street lights there will be a committee on electric light plant, and it is believed the membership now composed of Bauer, Felger and Pinnliger, will remain the same.

A track elevation committee is substituted for the old one on public property and no new appointments have been made but the duties may go to Hamilton, Braun and Haller who now have charge of public property.

To the committee on parks will be given the work formerly assigned to that on public buildings, and the streets and alleys committee will have to look after sewer matters.

The new rules were submitted last night and ordered printed and will be up for adoption at the next meeting.

Dark Horse in Race.

Ernest W. Cook was re-elected school trustee for three years on the first ballot by a vote of nine to five, one member refusing to vote and placing a blank ballot in the box.

The name of C. A. Dunkelberg was sprung and five votes were cast for him. This was expected as there were some members opposed to Mr. Cook. Mr. Dunkelberg was not present but Mr. Cook was on hand to look after his own interests. There were no nominations and a secret ballot was taken.

The request of H. G. Hogan, to be relieved from prosecuting old waterworks litigation, was referred to the committee on claims and city attorney.

Ordinances carrying appropriations of $1,500 for the maintenance of the public comfort stations, $5,000 to pay Metcalfe and Eddy for their services in formulating plans for the betterment of sewer conditions, $2,500 for the Van Buren street playgrounds, and $2,500 for a topographical survey of the river banks, were referred to the finance committee. One appropriating $250 to equip the city sealer's office, passed under a suspension of the rules.

Ordinances were passed appropriating $1,950 for new policemen, and $450 to pay miscellaneous claims. The report on the telephone tax was received and the authorities instructed to proceed with the collection of the amount due the city.

The council received the deed given by Henry R. Freeman for property to aid the river front commission and extended a vote of thanks. An invitation to ride in the parade at the Kreis Turnfest was accepted.

An ordinance providing for the ratification of the order for ornamental lamp posts and for paying for the current and maintenance out of the general fund, was referred to the committee on rules, regulations and ordinances. Contracts for the new water meters from the Worthington Meter company, and for the purchase of a centrifugal pump for No. 3 pumping station, were introduced and placed in the hands of a committee.

City Hall Notes.

Hereafter when complaints are made for failure to collect garbage a sanitary policeman will accompany the collector to the location from which the complaints are made and investigate conditions to see whether the householder or contractor is at fault. This was decided on at a meeting with the board of public works last night.

Under orders from the board of safety quiet zones designated by lamps will be established about each of the hospitals with appropriate notices so that the ringing of gongs and tooting of horns can be stopped.

The traction companies will be notified to observe speed ordinances and a new fire box will be established at Riedmiller and Taylor streets. Advertisements for 2,000 feet of new hose will be inserted at once.

REPORTED THEFT OF MONEY.

William Oliver reported to the police that a burglar entered his home at 1121 Ohio street and stole a pocketbook containing $30 from a drawer in his bedroom. The purse was found in the cellar, through which the burglar is said to have entered. Oliver is employed as a driver for the Troy laundry.

SERVICE IS TIED UP FOR AN HOUR

IT SPLIT A SWITCH

Street railway service on Broadway and Jefferson streeets, as well as the entire Fort Wayne end of the interurban service of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, was completely tied up for an hour early today when the out-bound Lafayette local interurban car "split a switch" at Broadway and Jefferson streets.

Nobody was injured, and aside from the delay there was no damage. The accident occurred at 6:10 o'clock, and the forward end of the car passed over the switch in safety while the rear trucks made the turn upon Jefferson street. The work car was hurried from the street railway barns to the spot, but it was some time before the crew could straighten out the tangle.

The south-bound Bluffton car was behind the Lafayette car, and before the tracks were cleared other cars, both city and interurban, were lined up in a long string at either side of the seat of the trouble. The accident caused delay to many people aboard cars bound for their daily toil.

M. F. BELGER HAS GONE FROM EARTH

Centlivre brewing institution, succeeding the late G. O. Ohneck. This position he retained down to the time of his death.

Sold Liquor; Never Drank It.

One striking characteristic of Mr Belger lay in the fact that while for the greater part of his business career he was identified with the sale of alcoholic beverages, he never drank them, but was thoroughly abstemious. Indeed, his friends have long insisted that Mr. Belger did not know the taste of liquor. Few men in Fort Wayne were more widely known than Mr. Belger, and his work as a salesman carried him over so wide a range of territory that he possessed an unusually extensive acquaintance and a very large number of very warm friends.

Mr. Belger was devoted to athletic sports and in 1895 was the owner of the Fort Wayne base ball team, which represented this city in the Indiana and Michigan league. He was the first county president of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in this city, and was active in the membership of the Elks, the Loyal Order of Moose, the United Commercial Travelers and the Fraternal Order of Eagles, in several of which societies he had long been an officer.

Was Left Fatherless.

Left fatherless by death when he was but a babe, Mr. Belger as a boy assumed early the responsibilities which originally come only with later years. He gave to his mother for many years and down to her death the tender care that was shared only with members of his own family, for devotion to his home and his family was a conspicuous trait of his character.

Mr. Belger was united in marriage in 1884 at Jackson, Mich., to Miss Catherine Rose Lennon, who survives, with four children—John T., Frederick M., Miss Catherine and Miss Marie Belger, all of this city. There are two brothers, James and Matthew Belger, of Charlotte, Mich., and a sister, Mrs. Thomas Cassidy, of Jackson. The deceased was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic church, the Married Men's sodality and the League of the Sacred Heart of that congregation.

Funeral services Friday morning at 10 o'clock from St. Patrick's Catholic church.

INDIANA PHARMACISTS MEET.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 14.—President J. R. Mutz, of Edinburg, delivered his annual address at today's session of the convention of the Indiana Pharmaceutical association which is being held here. W. H. Ruder, member of the state board of pharmacy, also spoke "On the New Law and Somethings We Need." H. M. Kepler, of Elkhart, president of the Indiana Pharmaceutical Travelers' association, addressed the afternoon meeting.

NURSERYMEN MEET.

St. Louis, June 14.—The 36th annual convention of the American Association of Nurserymen began here today and will continue for three days.

Dr. J. W. English, of Riverside, Cal., a brother of Dr. C. H. English, of 220 West Wayne street, stopped in the city for a few days' visit while returning home from a physicians' meeting at Washington, Pa.

WILL TALK UNDER W.C.T.U. AUSPICES

Senator Fleming to Discuss Proctor Law in Sane Fourth Address.

OTHERS ON PROGRAM

Senator S. B. Fleming has been secured as one of the speakers at the "sane" Fourth of July celebration to be held this year at Swinney park under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance union. Senator Fleming will discuss "The New Constitution" and "The Advantages of the Proctor Law."

The "sane Fourth" inaugurated in Fort Wayne a year ago by the ladies of the W. C. T. U. proved so popular that the program this year will be much more comprehensive. There will be an effort to demonstrate still more fully that a rational observance of the national birthday by clean amusements and attractive sports in a program from which danger to life and limb has been eliminated is wholly possible and that it is infinitely better than the nerve-racking and maiming use of dangerous explosives.

Other speakers in addition to Senator Fleming will include Mrs. Florence Richards, national lecturer of the W. C. T. U., Hon. T. E. Ellison and Dr. B. Von Sweringen.

NEWLYWEDS SWAMP STUDIO.

Three Wedding Parties Bear Down on Photographer at Same Time.

That June is a month of weddings was more than illustrated to a Calhoun street photographer when by a curious coincidence three separate wedding parties landed at his studio at the same time this morning. The carriages the newlyweds arrived in were all lined up in front of the studio, and two of them especially attracted considerable attention from passersby as they were decorated with numerous signs which set forth the joys of married life, several pairs of old shoes completing the decorations.

didate, and the board of trustees would elect her. While the election displeased a few, it has given general satisfaction. As yet no steps have been taken to disqualify Mrs. Leasure, or oust her from office, and it may be that none will be.

BOARD EXTENDS THANKS.

Sends Letter to Mr. Thieme in Return for His Good Work.

In accepting the river front improvement paid for by Theodore Thieme, the park board sent him the following communication:

Fort Wayne, Ind., June 10, 1911.

Mr. Theodore Thieme, City:

Dear Sir: The board is in receipt of your communication of June 1, asking the acceptance on the part of the city of Fort Wayne, through its board of park commissioners, of the river park improvement which you have made at your own expense, just south and west of the West Main street bridge.

It gives the board unusual pleasure to comply with your request, and in the future to care for the splendid improvement you have completed at that point. In doing so this board desires to express to you not only its appreciation of your generosity and public spirit, but that of every citizen of Fort Wayne, for whose benefit and enjoyment you have expended so large a sum of your private fortune. May the example you have set lead other prominent and wealthy citizens of Fort Wayne to build for themselves other and better and more lasting monuments to their memories than those they erect in Lindenwood.

With great respect, we are sincerely yours,

Ferdinand Meier.
O. W. Tresselt.

CURSED HER FOR TEN LONG YEARS

Wife Tired of It and Asked for Divorce and $5,000 Alimony.

OTHER COURT CASES

Alleging that John W. Galloway cursed for ten years, Mary E. Galloway has entered suit in the superior court asking a divorce, $5,000 alimony and the custody of a daughter of eighteen and a son of fourteen. They were married May 16, 1891.

She charges that her husband has accused her of infidelity and of stealing in the presence of the children and has slapped and beaten her and threatened to kill her. She secured a restraining order to prevent him from disposing of his property and from molesting her in their home at 1236 West Main street.

Asks for New Trial.

In the superior court the city of Fort Wayne has asked for a new trial of the suit in which Milton H. Bender secured a verdict for $450 on account of injuries sustained when he was thrown from the seat of his wagon when one of the wheels dropped into a hole in the Calhoun street pavement.

No Action Taken.

No action has been taken by Henry Schomburg, who threatened to sue County Treasurer W. H. Scheiman for damages to his buggy and injuries to his horse siezed by Charles Nuebrecht and J. L. Kreckman, delinquent tax collectors. The horse ran away after the officers had taken it and threw them out and smashed the buggy against the Superior street bridge. The animal was hurt and Schomburg says he wants damages. He was working in the court house and the collectors saw his rig outside and seized it.

Young Seeks Damages.

George F. Young has entered suit in the circuit court against the National Casualty company and Ebin R. Ayers to collect $5,000 for false arrest.

In January of this year he was in the city court on a charge of embezzlement and it was alleged that he was short in his accounts. At a preliminary hearing he was acquitted and the suit follows. He is represented by H. C. Hanna and W. C. Ryan.

Refuses to Make Transfer

Under an opinion submitted by County Attorney E. G. Hoffman a refusal to transfer the saloon license formerly held by Otto Horstmann, at the Rich hotel, to Thomas O'Dowd, was entered in the commissioners' court. Horstmann is under indictment for stealing chickens and this disqualified him as applicant and his rights ceased when it was found that he is not a fit person to be considered by the court.

The attorney holds that the new liquor law gives the board discretionary power which is an important ruling, as it will apply in future against men who violate the law and then seek to transfer.

WILL ELECT CHAIRMAN.

Prohibitionists to Meet in Fort Wayne June 24.

The prohibitionists of Allen county will hold a meeting in the court house assembly room in this city on Saturday, June 24, for the purpose of electing a chairman and a secretary of the county central committee.

In the evening a public meeting will be held at the court house assembly room, at which the principal speaker will be Rev. J. M. Joly, of South Bend.

The German singers of this city are making all necessary preparations to attend the North American Saengerfest to be held at Milwaukee June 22 to 26. There are over 150 active songsters in Fort Wayne who will take part in the great prize singing in the Wisconsin city. Preparations have been made with the Pennsylvania Railroad company to run a special train, leaving the city at 4:30 Thursday morning and arriving at Chicago at 8 o'clock. From Chicago the party will travel to Milwaukee via lake steamer.

tered into, although he was secretary of one of the companies that went into the combination.

"Mind Blank as to History.

After futile attempts to bring out the inside history of the purchase and organization by the American of the various companies Mr. Garrett asked if there was any one who could tell of the deal.

"That I do not know," replied Mr. Heike smiling. Mr. Garrett was insistent upon getting information in regard to the purchase of a Baltimore refinery in 1892.

Mr. Heike said he had never heard the report that control of it was gained through a loan by a "dummy" who represented the American Sugar Refining company. Representative Garrett asked Mr. Heike about the purchase and closing of the United States Sugar Refining company's plant at Camden, N. J.

"It was poorly located," said Mr. Heike. He said it was not operated after it fell into the hands of the American.

Business Not Discussed.

Representative Madison expressed interest in the statement that there was not much discussion of business at directors' meeting. He asked if there were not other strong men on the board besides President Havemeyer, such as John E. Parsons. Mr. Heike said Mr. Parsons was a lawyer and knew little about refining sugar.

"But hasn't the American made its money out of manipulation of stock and organization of corporations rather than out of refining sugar?" inquired Mr. Madison.

Mr. Heike was not willing to agree to that, nor to acknowledge that stock had been watered by the American officials. Repeated requests of the witness to estimate the value of the company's property so as to show whether it was over capitalized were not complied with.

Went to New York and Got It.

"Cooke and I went to New York in September, 1901. We went to the safety deposit vaults and opened the packages and counted the money. It came to $22,000, all in $10, $20, $50 and $100 bills."

"While you were in New York did you have knowledge as to where this money came from?" she was asked.

"Yes, from the Big Four," was the reply. "Cooke explained how and why he got it. He said other men were getting it and that when they let him out he just helped himself."

At the conclusion of Mrs. Ford's direct testimony court adjourned until tomorrow.

Assistant Prosecutor Dennis Cash tried again to get Warriner to admit that there had been illegal rebating by the Big Four railway as a part of the transactions involving the alleged shortage of Cooke, but he was again unsuccessful.

AVIATOR MEETS WITH DISASTER

ABANDON BIG RACE

Ronciglione, Italy, June 14.—Herr Frey, the only competitor in the Paris-Rome-Turin aviation race to attempt the final leg of the course lies in the hospital here with his right arm and left leg broken and his lower jaw fractured. In periods of delirium he fights again the battle with the fog that was his undoing yesterday.

Frey does not appear to have been injured internally, and the physicians believe that he will recover. The airman's wife came from Florence during the night and is with him today.

The time limit for the race will expire tomorrow and yesterday the German aviator decided to take one more chance with the elements, hoping to reach Florence and then accomplish the perilous flight over the apennines to Bologna, from where it should be comparatively easy going to the goal at Turin. Starting from Rome he soon ran into a heavy fog and lost his bearings. Approaching Lake Vico his machine became unmanageable in a fierce rain and hail storm and hurtled to the ground in the mountain forests near here. Hours later the injured man was found in the wreckage of his aeroplane by Red Cross searchers. He had covered about thirty-five miles when he fell.

Lafayette, Ind., June 14.—Purdue university graduated a class of 331 today and granted 31 additional advanced degrees. It was the 37th annual commercial commencement and the Hon. Joseph W. Representatives of the different courses read abstracts of their thesises and the degrees were conferred by President Winthrop E. Stone in the presence of the board of trustees and the factulty. There were many out of town guests at the exercises. The graduating class was unusually large. The gala week festivities concluded today.

CAMORRIST TRIAL HALTS.

Viterbo, Italy, June 14.—Because of the failure of Alessandro Lioy, of counsel for the defense, to appear in court today, President Branchi adjourned the trial of the camorrists until Friday. Lioy withdrew from the proceedings yesterday after he had been accused of tampering with witnesses for the crown. The prisoners were much disappointed over the delay, for which they held Lioy responsible.

Stout, a Circleville, Ohio, banker.

LAWTON STATUE AT LINDENWOOD

REVIVING MOVEMENT

Committees representing Fort Wayne veterans' organizations have indicated their acceptance of a circlar plat of ground fifty feet in diameter, donated by Lindenwood Cemetery association as a site for the proposed monument to Major General Henry W. Lawton. The site is beautifully located on the south slope of the cemetery. The proposal to erect a monument to General Lawton in Fort Wayne, from which city he entered the civil war, has recently taken on new life. Some years ago a fund of about $500 was raised for this purpose, but the money has lain in bank without further action up to this time.

The cemetery association officers have also donated to the veteran organization a tract of ground 24x164 feet in section U the southwestern portion of the cemetery as a burial place for veteran soldiers. An earlier tract near the cemetery entrance given for the same purpose is now filled by the graves of forty veterans who have been laid to rest there.

Committees representing the veterans' societies in acceptance of the gifts are as follows: Union Veteran Legion—S. S. Kelker, H. W. Dickman, W. S. Bidwell. Sion S. Bass post—Joseph Kickley, George Graham, John Jones. Lawton-Wayne post—W. B. McMaken, I. N. Medsker, W. J. Bright.

TO BE FILED FOR REFERENCE.

It some time will impress itself on the business community if not on the municipal government that within the corporate boundaries of Fort Wayne there are some bad gaps in the road between the points where city pavements end and the well kept country thoroughfares begin. This is not an especially striking way to invite rural trade. North Clinton street from Superior to Clinton's conjunction with the Spy Run avenue road is in a deplorable state and the more strikingly so because with Spy Run avenue practically out of commission the bulk of traffic from that direction must use Clinton street. This is cited merely as an instance of a situation that is rather too general. Some cities set upon their rural trade so high a value that they project the city paid pavements several miles from the gateways into the country. A sort of a pledge of esteem and guarantee of good faith, so to speak. Fort Wayne could do herself some proud and improve conditions vastly by paving to the well kept pikes which begin in most cases at the border. At some convenient season when nothing else presses, the Commercial club and the Retail Merchants' association might conjointly look into this matter with a view to subsequent results. Meanwhile, too, the the municipal government might not be indulging a wanton waste of time by considering some reasonable possibilities along this line. We do not thrust this topic forward as a matter of vital urgency, but merely as a matter that may, perhaps, profitably be filed for reference to be laid hold of at some juncture of time and affairs when the hours lag and tasks are few.

After several weeks spent in the adventure the Paris-Rome-Turin air race is figuratively "up in the air" and literally grounded. All of the contestants have had repeated mishaps and some of them have been injured, one of them and the only one to d are the last leg of the race, quite seriously. It was a spectacular undertaking and not without either scientific value or sporting interest, but it serves to demonstrate in a conspicuous way once more that aerial navigation is dependent upon the friendliness of the element in which it must be practiced. The aviators have lain for many days at Rome awaiting suitable conditions to try the flight to Turin. The man who braved the undertaking may not survive the adventure, and his experience seems to have deterred his competitors from inviting disaster. The aeroplane has had a wonderful development during the past four years, but it remains the kite that it was in the beginning. The intrepid aviators continue, however, to demonstrate its shortcomings and every disaster adds something to the knowledge of what remains to be overcome.

Affairs in the state department at Washington may be as straight, orderly, regular and clean as they should be, but there is nevertheless evidence to justify the shooting in of the probe. A short time ago it was ascerttained that of $2,500 allotted for the payment of a portrait artist who had painted a picture of a recent secretary of state the man who did the work got but one-third. What had become of the balance could not be found out and the voucher for the full amount was missing from the file. That voucher has just been found on the floor of the office of the state department's disbursing clerk. How it came there is a mystery to him. Secretary Knox is served with a subpoena to appear before the committee and tell what he knows about the payment of $5,000 out of the Canadian boundaries commission's funds to Frederick Hale, a son of ex-Senator Hale, of Maine. These incidents may be susceptible of perfectly satisfactory explanation, but it will not be amiss for congress to find out.

Some cities, eespecially some of those of Europe, make garbage the source of a revenue and even of profit instead a public expense. This means that garbage is efficiently collected and properly disposed of. It is time for Fort Wayne to investigate modern methods of collecting and disposing of garbage. The way it is done here is just an appreciable shade better than no method at all. Before anything is done to make improvements in respect of the local situation something about the approved ways should be learned and when it is thought expedient to begin the expenditure of money to procure more satisfactory results there will be no prospect of a waste of public funds. It will not cost much to make sure of something better than we have.

The local branch of the Women's Christian Temperance union is making arrangements to hold a "safe and sane" Fourth of July celebration this year and so far as that work has been advanced the program promises uncommon interest and entertainment. Last year the women of the Fort Wayne branch of this organization gave a similar celebration and the success of it, its wholesome character and the influence of its good example were such as to dictate a repetition this year and on a greater scale. The ladies hope to give a practical demonstration that a spirited and significant observance of the national birthday need not mean distraction and destruction, disaster and death.

The re-election of Mr. E. W. Cook to the Fort Wayne school board is a non-partisan tribute to the faithful service and valuable public work of an official who has had a part in one of the most progressive periods in the life of the public schools here. Mr. Cook has served two terms and has twice been elected by democratic councils, whereas his first election was by a republican council. Nothing can add much to the eloquence and impressiveness of that bare statement. Politics in this case is subordinated to the public good and in doing that the council pays itself a worthy tribute.

The democrats of the house threaten to reject the Bristow form of the direct elections amendment and throw the matter into conference. That may mean the suspension of it for the present session and the death of it ultimately. The probability that a constitutional majority of the states would refuse to ratify it as it passed the senate doubtless is a contingency it may be well to recognize now for the saving of time. If the resolution goes to the states only to be beaten it means a delay of two or three years, perhaps, before the necessity for a new start can be disclosed.

Democratic senators have "views" of the Canadian reciprocity bill as well as the republicans, but most of them are ready to admit and confirm it by vote that some reciprocity and a modicum of tariff reform are a whole lot better than not any. Senator Kern takes that position and will accept what he can be sure of rather than to contest for more that can only be jeopardized by reaching for it.

That the United States senate has been brought to adopt any form of resolution providing for direct election of the members of that body is a victory for the reform. The senate has stood out long and stubbornly, but the force of public opinion and the object lessons of events have forced them forward. The reform is sure to come in some acceptible fashion sooner or later if it has not already so come.

Also there is a prospect that The Colonel will be called to the stand to tell what he may recollect of the absorption of Tennessee Coal and Iron by the Steel trust. Then again, maybe the committee will consider that in this case discretion is apt to be the better part of valor, and content itself with some of the hearsay.

That June can break records at both ends of the themometer almost the same day is one of the most recent meteorological demonstrations.

THE BABY'S OUTING.

(Indianapolis Star.)

A New York physician, a woman, who is chairman of the public health committee of the American Medical association, criticises the common fashion of taking ailing babies out into the dusty, noisy streets. The doctors have told the mothers, perhaps, that the children should have fresh air, and have recommended the parks, but many mothers find it impossible to go to the parks, and as the next best thing they take their little ones to the doorways or wheel them up and down on the crowded pavement, where they encounter the dust-laden air of the street and the din of traffic, where the heat is at least ten degrees higher, in most cases, than on the roofs, accessible in most New York tenements—or even indoors near a window. Noise, declares this physician, has a frightful effect on the nerves of a sick child, and in hundreds of cases this street airing has proved fatal in a few hours. She says it is better in the comparative coolness and quiet of even a tenement room.

She is writing of children in the New York slums, but what she says of noise and dust applies equally to babies everywhere, who are dragged out upon the streets by mothers, older children or nursemaids in cabs or little carts, or are pulled along by hand—this by way of carrying out the tradition that every infant needs a daily outing. The outing is, of course, desirable, other things being equal, but the youngster is better off in the yard at home than on the street, and in this part of the world, at least, there are few homes so poor and crowded but that a bit of such space belongs to them.

To compaassionate observers the average occupant of a baby cab, no matter how comfortable and rich his equipment, or whether he be puny or sturdy, is likely to arouse a sentiment of pity when seen on the street. Never does he seem to be enjoying himself as babies do in the quietude of home, when their minds are not distracted by many things. If they are past the first few months of infancy they commonly wear a bewildered, distressed look, which is natural, seeing that the mind of the young child is not capable of gaining more than a kaleidoscopic impression of the moving panorama of things that he passes, and feels the street noises as a terrific din. When the delicate mechanism of the infant brain and the little protection it receives are considered, the wonder is not that so many children die, but that so many survive.

A $400,000,000 HAIR-CUT.

(New York World.)

That it is no trifle for the Chinaman to cut off his queue Ching Chun Wang proves in the Atlantic Monthly by the higher mathematics he learned in Yale. Even at the low wages prevailing in China it takes a cent's worth of time per day to comb and braid each of the 100,000,000 queues of full-grown men, not counting the boy children. This is $365,000,000 a year. Queue-cords cost $20,000,000 a year more, and $20,000,000 would be saved by checking the waste and soiling or clothing by long hair rubbing against it; say $405,000,000 in all.

This computation reveals only the beginning of the stupendous trade and social problems the general hair-cut involves. It will hasten the abandonment of clothing in the Chinese style. Hangchow hatters and Chekiang silkmakers cry out in chorus against the hair-cut and the too rapid modernization of China. It spells their ruin. Soldiers whose hair has been cut have been so ridiculed by their pigtailed messmates that they have deserted in numbers. All these things have to be thought of. Mr. Wang does not mention that if the queues all came off at once the false hair sold in New York to young ladies who fancy those Mrs. Newlywed coiffure effects would be very cheap.

Mr. Wang is all for the close hair-cut. "Once an average Chinaman finds his head minus the queue * * * he will regard it as his lot to adopt things foreign." The barber's clippers will mean a "revolution of the thoughts of 400,000,000 people." They will become modern. Only to avoid political revolution and industrial panic the celestials will clip not all at once, but gradually, beginning with the diplomats, already shorn, and the imperial princes, and working down the social ladder to the last lone coolie in the rice swamps only when he gets good and ready.

THE FASHIONABLE BUTTON.

An inspection of the most recent importations and domestic products in buttons will disclose the fact that for nearly every pronounced feature in fashions a corresponding button is worked out either in color, in design or both.

The oval, semi-spherical and mounded surface buttons are quite prominent among the newer showings. In the ball effects black and white checks are very numerous and the mound-shaped buttons of metal include several novelty lines in hammered effects. Instead of being perfectly round or oval, most of these have a flattened appearance. In the same shape acorns, worked out in gilt, gunmetal, nickel and other finishes, are being offered in varying sizes.

Crochet and passementerie buttons are two of the styles that conform with fashion indications.

Among the novelty lines offered this season are colored metal buttons covered with a glass coating. These are chiefly in round, cup or concave designs and in the fashionable colors.

Pearl buttons, in the white and smoked varieties, are exceptionally promising and pearl combined with either horn, galalith or other compositions and effects are occupying a foremost position.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

JUDGE HANDS IT TO THE THIEVES

Jail Terms Handed to Batch in the City Court This Morning.

CARPET MAN FINED

Judge Frank Mungovan handed it to the thieves brought before him in the city court today and three of them will do little stretches for pilfering. Arthur Knox stole a lot of paper hangers' tools from Henry Meyers, and the judge gave him $5 and costs and thirty days.

Goadfrey Coates, who stole a watch and chain at the Occidental barber shop, on Harrison street, drew the same fine and term as did James Kelly, charged by Ollie Boer, a fellow hobo, with taking $15 from him. Part of the money was found where Kelly had concealed it in his cell. James Murray, his companion, drew $5 and costs and ten days.

Andrew Throney was fined $5 and costs for maintaining a nuisance. He has a carpet cleaning shop on Wall street and the neighbors complain that he raises too much dust and makes too much noise and they are annoyed by both.

Mike Koehler didn't quite work up a cry when he took the witness stand, but he came near it. The judge fined him $1 and costs for drunkenness.

Frank Sylvester was also fined $5 and costs and Pat Bain was held until tomorrow. Frank Wilhelm was given a chance and promised to get back to his job out on a farm. Lee Minker was given a chance to leave the city.

LOAD OF HAY DELAYS TRAFFIC.

Traction traffic on Broadway was held up for over a half hour this morning while conductors, motormen and passersby helped an unlucky farmer reload his wagon with hay. The countryman's team shyed at near the Pennsylvania crossing and the immense load of hay was tumbled directly onto the street car tracks. City cars and interurban special were strung out on Broadway for several blocks awaiting the clearing of the tracks.

Weigh Yourself Before Using

Weigh yourself before commencing to use Samose, the great flesh-forming food. The wonderful sale on this preparation since first introduced in Fort Wayne and the remarkable results following its use have made them such enthusiastic believers in the great value of Samose that they give their personal guarantee to refund the money if Samose will not make thin people fat and restore strength and health to those who use it.

This is a strong guarantee, but Meyer Bros. Co. have seen so many of their customers who a few weeks ago looked like walking skeltons become plump and well, through the use of Samose that they feel they cannot say too much to induce people to try it.

This marvelous flesh-forming food is assimilated as soon as it is taken into the stomach makes good rich blood, tones up the weakened system, helps to assimilate the food and makes the user plump, well and rosy.

There were other games and delicious refreshments served in a dainty manner. The decorations were in pink and white and the table was prettily trimmed with smilax and pink sweetpeas. Festoons of pink and white crepe paper were extended from the corners of the room to the chandelier, where a white bell filled with rice was showered on the coming bride. Pink ribbons were caught to the bell and the other ends extended to each plate, where tiny white shoes held them in place. Pink hooded lights and a bowl of pink peas formed other decorations for the table, while Miss Kahoe's chair was marked with pink sweetpeas and tulle and she was given a wreath of flowers. Schwartz—Kavanaugh.

One of the prettiest of June weddings was that of Miss Mary Frances Kavanaugh and Mr. Joseph Mathias Schwartz, which took place this morning at 9 o'clock in St. Patrick's church. Rev. J. F. Delaney celebrated the nuptial mass. The bride, a beautiful young woman, was attended by her sister, Miss Katherine Kavanaugh, and the bridegroom by his brother, Mr. Louis Schwartz. Miss Celeste Miller sang the "Ave Maria" during the impressive ceremony and Mr. Peter Zurbach sang the offertory. The bride wore a simply made gown of white marquisette over white satin that was trimmed with wide bands of Irish baby lace and had a rosebud sash ended with ball and tassels attached at the waist line in the back. Instead of a veil the bride wore a large hat of lace, trimmed with two large white plumes, and she held an arm bouquet of bride roses. The bridesmaid looked handsome in a pink silk voile hung over pink satin and trimmed with baby Irish lace. The gown had a tiny yoke of embroidered net and the sleeves were the fashionable length. With this pretty gown Miss Kavanaugh wore a white French chip hat trimmed with a wreath of pink rosebuds and a butterfly bow of pink chiffon. Her flowers were pink sweetpeas that harmonized beautifully with the gown. After the church service the bridal party, the members of the two immediate families and the members of a club of young women to which the bride belonged, were served the wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kavanaugh, 1815 Fairfield avenue. The dining room was decorated in pink and green with sweetpeas, roses and smilax. The table was done in pink peas and smilax and the wedding cake was part of the ornamentation. The living room and parlor displayed green and white for colors with garden flowers and asparagus vine furnishing the appropriate and tasteful decoration. This afternoon the bride and groom left for an eastern trip and on their return will be at home after the first of July at 332 Washington boulevard west, where they will go to housekeeping. For traveling the bride wore a soft shade of blue broadcloth with a stylish hat of Panama trimmed simply with bands of blue satin to match the dress. During the serving of the breakfast Mrs. Kavanaugh and her daughters were assisted by Mrs. Harry Miller, Miss Cecelia Lennart and Miss Esther Neidhart. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kavanaugh, jr., and their infant daughter, Katherine. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schwartz and he is employed in the App footwear store. Both bride and groom are young people who stand high in the respect and affection of their many friends.

SMART WAIST OF 1911.

By MRS. JANE FORD.

6 SIZES 32 TO 42 BUST

Sufficient time has elapsed since the Norfolk jacket was worn to make its reappearance a novelty. It is a graceful, pretty style that is becoming to both young and middle aged women, and at this season it bids fair to be popular developed in Shantung silks, linens, heavy cottons and lightweight woolen weaves. The lines of the 1911 jacket follow those of the prevailing styles, which give one a slender appearance, and the well liked sailor collar, which no suit is complete without, is cleverly adapted.

It is surprising how very easy these waists are to complete, for one may be cut out and completely finished in a few hours. They require very little fitting, and if one is at all careful with the making they are sure to be a success. The fad for the combination of color, which has not escaped these waists, is given by the collar, cuffs and tie. A waist seen was of natural colored French linen, with collar and cuffs of black pongee over which was laid white Irish crochet.

For general wear the waists are well liked, because they are loose and comfortable, yet have a neat, trim appearance. Those who would like to have such a waist can get the pattern of this advanced model. To copy it for the average woman requires five and seven-eighths yards of material twenty-seven inches wide.

RECIPES.

Braised Veal.

Braised veal will be best prepared from a shoulder. Have the bone so removed that there is a pocket left for stuffing. Take one quart of stale pieces of bread, let the crusts soak in cold water for ten minutes, then squeeze as dry as possible and crumble all together. Add one teaspoonful of salt, one-third of a teaspoonful of pepper, three large onions finely chopped and sauted fo rten minutes in a little hot dripping, a scant teaspoonful of powdered thyme. Melt two-thirds of a cupful of beef dripping and pour it slowly over the bread, turning it through that the shortening may be mixed evenly. Fill the cavity with this mixture; if there is more than enough make the remainder in small balls and place in the pan half an hour before the meat is done. On the bottom of the braising pan or kettle spread one chopped onion and a half cupful of chopped carrot; add three sprigs of parsley, one-quarter of a bay leaf, a half teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper. Lay on this the meat, pour round it a pint or three cupfuls of stock (made from the bone), cover and cook in a moderate oven for from three to four hours, according to the weight of the meat. Uncover about forty minutes before serving that it may be brown. Slightly thicken the gravy with browned flour.

Junket With Fruit Jelly.

Make some junket in the ordinary way, flavoring it with a little vanilla extract, or wine; pour it into glass dishes or saucers. When firm place a round of jelly on each dish of junket. The jelly may be apple, currant, gooseberry, or any red jelly which may be convenient. On this pipe a star of cream.

Fruits Now Adorn the Summer Hat

Designers of fascinating and fashionable millinery and makers of the trimming thereof may be seen hovering in the vicinity of fruit stands, studying the effects of different fruit combinations. For the edict has gone forth that Miladi Modish is to wear things edible next to her glistening hair, and while this may sound unpalatable in the telling, it is decidedly attractive to the eye when worn by a woman who understands the proper placing of millinery fruit.

Time was when cherries were sacred to the large floppy hats of the miss of sixteen. Their blushing cheeks matched those of the wearer, and their suggestion of spring detracted nothing from her own blithe youth. Cherries are no longer sacred to any age or any shape. They are tucked away in the hat of the matron of sixty, and the Puritan bonnet, as well as the wide-spreading chapeaux, benefit by their dashing color. Grapes lend themselves delightfully to reproduction. So far has art progressed in this respect that even the early morning dew cast like a gossamer veil across their purple cheeks is given in all of nature's purity and charm. Currants are another fruit favorite of the milliner, and apples come in for their share of popularity. Mostly they follow the taste of the small boy by being green in age as well as color.

The fruit fad has gone so far as to put the mark of approval on lemons and oranges as millinery adornment. Grapefruit and bananas have thus far been overlooked, but the fertile imaginations of creators of fashion are liable to the wildest flights, so that no doubt even these difficult fruits could be made to serve the purpose of the designer.

Trindel H. Ferguson went to Delphos, O., to attend a party given by Misses Lelia and Fern Lytle. The Misses Lytle have visited in Fort Wayne several times and have many friends here.

STORY TELLING FOR CHILDREN.

Miss Emilie Krider Norris Will Interest Children at Guildin Playground and Other Places.

Miss Mary E. Foster, of New York city, is in the city at present aiming to interest mothers and teachers in the After School Club of America. Miss Foster is secretary of this field of work and has already secured the names of many prominent women who are willing to become identified with the work of this club. The After School Club of America is, as its name suggests, one of national importance, for its aim is to bring to parents the best thought obtainable in the understanding, activities, welfare and training of children. Definite personal service is afforded by means of letters, pamphlets and magazine bulletins and a circulating library. The keynote is the individual home and definite personal application. Miss Foster aims to get mothers and all interested in children to associate themselves with the club. She is here under the auspices of the Woman's League. In furtherance of the work will be story telling by a famous reader, Miss Emilie Krider Norris, who will be heard at the following places and time: On Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the Guildin playground; at 2:30 o'clock of the same day for children and teachers at the Jefferson school; on Monday morning at the Bloomingdale school at 10:30 o'clock, and on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Hanna school.

GAVE GOOD CONCERT.

Schlatter's Orchestra and First M. E Church Choir Entertain Audience.

Under the direction of O. E. Richard the C. C. Schlatter orchestra and the choir of the First M. E. church gave an excellent program in a highly commendable manner last evening in the First M. E. church before an audience that was interested and gave much applause at the close of every number. The orchestra, composed entirely of amateur performers, did fine work and a number of their performances were a credit to their director and a proof of the sincere and earnest endeavor to study good music and play it well. Of much interest was the rendering by the choir of the church of a poetical cantata called "Pan Among the Reeds." It is a delicate and pretty work musically and fitted for the familiar poem by Mrs. Browning. The choir sang it very well and the baritone solo work was done by M. B. Hollenbeck, a young singer with a good voice.

New York, June 14.—Life insurance organizations of the United States and Canada distributed $563,440,000 in 1910, according to computations by the Insurance Press.

Big Increase Shown.

Along all lines of benefits under policies—death claims, endowments, and dividends—the transactions of the regular life insurance companies continued to increase last year, under the normal conditions that prevailed. New insurance for more than $2,600,000,000 of protection was written, and, after the policy account deductions, the insurance in force showed an increase of nearly $1,000,000,000.

An indication of normal business conditions in 1910, according to life insurance records in the New York insurance department, where 90 per cent of the insurance in force throughout the country must be accounted for, was the decrease of disbursements for surrendered, lapsed, and purchased policies. The amount of the decrease was about $187,000, compared with $3,059,000 for increase in 1909 and $14,643,000 for increase in 1908.

For policyholders able to hold their protection throughout the year dividend payments were increased largely. The record of dividends paid by the companies that reported in New York showed an increase to the amount of $10,839,572, compared with $9,195,734 for increase in 1909, and $7,730,107 for increase in 1908. Several millions of dollars of dividends were applied for the purchase of annuities and paid up additions to insurance carried.

Increase of Loans Normal.

According to that record, a notable feature of the transactions was that the amount of the dividend distributions, $72,874,538, was $17,470 in excess of the amount of disbursements for surrendered, lapsed, and purchased policies, $72,857,068.

The increase of loans on policies was normal. According to the returns of companies to the New York department, the amount of the increase of the loan account was about $44,400,000. Increases in previous years were: 1909, $34,964,000; 1908, $55,450,000; 1907, $72,587,000; 1906, $27,279,000.

The promotion of new companies was continued to a small extent last year. Insurance commissioners' denunciation of reprehensible stock selling schemes had effect on would-be promoters.

Eventful for Fraternal Insurance.

The payments of fraternal orders and similar assessment organizations increased also in 1910. The year was eventful for fraternal insurance. After several conferences a committee of commissioners and representatives of the national fraternal congress and the Associated Fraternities of America agreed upon a uniform bill for the regulation and control of the organizations by the insurance departments of the states, with the purpose of establishing adequate rates and attaining solvency. The bill was submitted at the sessions of the legislatures of many of the states this year. As to adoption, the record to date is not complete.

CASEY DON'T WANT THE FIRST BASEMAN

BONE HEAD PLAYS WILL NICK THE PAY CHECKS OF THE OFFENDERS

Dentist-Manager Takes His Company Into His Confidence and Tells the Members That They Must Use Their Domes of Thought in Games.

James Casey, D. D. S., gimp manufacturer and manager of the Fort Wayne ball team, took the members of his company into his confidence following the blow-off of the petticoat matinee of Tuesday and informed them collectively and individually that each and every one of them is getting enough salary to indicate that he is the possessor of a dome of intellect and that said domes must be lubricated and in good working order in future meetings with the enemy.

Plays of the ivory-domed or bonehead variety will nick the salary checks of the offenders. Heretofore moral suasion has been used in dealing with these slips, but from and after this date they will be put on a strictly cash basis and offenders will find dents in their pay the first and the fifteenth of each month.

The doctor does not condemn fielding bobbles, because they are part and parcel of the game, and the game would lack much of the element of chance if there were no errors, but he is downright sore on the loss of games through displays of bad baseball and players who want to draw on the treasury must show that they are entitled to the privilege.

This prelude refers in a marked way to a ten-inning defeat at Mr. Varnell's plot yesterday afternoon. Harry Corns pitched great ball for eight innings, blew up and allowed the score to be tied, and then by a bad exhibition of base running allowed victory to slip out of his grasp for the second time.

The Browns, Mathewsons and other high-class flingers of the game can't avoid bad days with their pitching arms. They all go wrong at times, but the thinking end of the game should not be affected by bum wings. In the third inning of the game Corns butted right into a double play when he should have been roosting on third, waiting for Roy Keener, one of the most consistent hitters on the team, to send him home. Onslow got a pass and when Corns bunted the throw from pitcher to second was slow and both men were safe. Blount struck out and Justice hit to short after Parker's attempt to catch Onslow off second had gone wrong and advanced both runners.

Onslow started for home on the play, saw he was caught and stopped to give Corns and Justice an opportunity to move up. Justice went to second all right and Corns to third, but he lost his head and instead of sticking to the bag and allowing Onslow to be retired he piked back for second, which was occupied and was caught. But for the fact that one man had already been retired a triple play could have been pulled out of the mess.

In the ninth Corns hit and sent Jack Onslow to third after the catcher had drawn a base on balls. Corns took second when Onslow was nipped at home on Bailey's grounder, and Justice ripped a single to middle, but the pitcher stooped to look at the ball and then went into the plate standing up on a close play and was tagged.

These are some of the things that made the manager sore and resulted in the curtain lecture.

Gray was the first of the Grand Rapids squad up in the ninth and he scratched a hit down third base line. Klim hit to right and Holt followed, although his short fly would have been an out with a fast fielder on the job. This filled the bases with none down and Corns went sailing and passed two men after he had struck Parker out. Murray hit to Vandagrift, who fumbled the ball long enough to let Holt score the tieing run, but caught his man at first.

Slow fielding gave Gray a double in the tenth, when he dropped a short fly to left. Klim hit down first base line and Corns and Clancy both started for the ball. Clancy became confused and didn't cover the bag in time to get the throw from Vandagrift, who finally got the ball. In the meantime Gray had advanced to third and Holt scored him with a hit.

Notes of the Game.

Blount started to slide for third in the sixth, changed his mind, went down and came up with a sprained ankle that sent him to the club house.

Keener sent three runs over in the sixth with a home run. The ball hit the top of the right field fence and bounded over.

Wickland saved the game for Grand Rapids in the tenth when he went over into right and got Jim Casey's drive. Two men were on at the time. This indicates that a fleet fielder who can run bases and cover ground and hit .250 is worth half a dozen of the elephantine variety hitting .300 or over.

Bill Bailey was sent in to get a sacrifice fly. McLafferty took Blount's place in the outfield and played an inning. Bailey didn't get his fly, so he had to play center in the last round.

Casey had two guesses. One was that Corns would go through all right in the ninth, and the other was that he wouldn't. He guessed wrong, but the same thing might have happened if he had sent Pfeffer in. The big fellow was all warmed up.

Riley pitched good ball in all but the sixth inning. He evidently didn't like to work with Parker behind the bat and was constantly making the backstop change his signals.

OPEN SEASON IN CENTRAL LEAGUE

Ninety-Eight Hits and Sixty-Five Runs Made by Eight Clubs.

DAYTON LEADS LIST

Yesterday's results indicate that the open season for hits and runs is on. The eight clubs on the Carson circuit annexed ninety-eight hits during the conflicts of Tuesday afternoon and there was a total output of sixty-five runs.

Dayton and South Bend did more toward boosting the record than any of the others, although Terre Haute and Wheeling ran a close second with Fort Wayne and Grand Rapids and Evansville and Zanesville running a dead heat.

Manager Knoll sent James Charles or Charles James Wacker out to tame the champs, and he finished the second inning with his wings badly singed, as seven runs were recorded by Ed Smith's band and the chances were that it would romp home with the bacon and humble the proud leaders right in their own ball yard.

Knoll evidently decided that the demon flinger had stood one beating and it was no use to waste another pitcher, so he just kept his portsider on the job. In the fifth the leaders got to Dave Martin for seven runs and in the seventh they negotiated as many runs with John Henry Meyers on the mound. South Bend made a feeble bid in the ninth, but fell short.

Eddie Wheeler had fourteen men engaged in an endeavor to stop the march of the hustling Stogies. After three of his regular pitchers had failed to halt them he sent Johnny Barkwell to the box and he did as well as any of the regulars.

Zanesville and Evansville played sensational ball and the Potters won, although Grant's men fought right down to the wire and scored one of the two runs needed to tie in the final half of the ninth. The scores:

CATCHER JOINS BOSTON CLUB

JOHNNY KLING.

Chicago, Ill., June 14.—After purchasing transportation and making arrangements to depart with his family for his home in Kansas City, John C. Kling, the veteran catcher of the Chicago National league club, who was traded to the Boston National league club and refused to report, suddenly changed his mind. He had a conference with President Russell, of the Boston club at 7:30 o'clock last night and at 9:30 o'clock he was on his way to Pittsburg with the team. Kling says he will receive a large bonus from Boston for reporting.

LITTLE BITS OF SPORT CHATTER

Umpire Glenalvin, released by Dr. Carson, is working in the Central association and giving satisfaction.

Roy Montgomery hit the Durham bull in the game at Terre Haute yesterday and will pull down the $50 reward offered for the feat.

Patterson, a college pitcher secured by Eddie Wheeler during the winter months, is scheduled to join the Terre Haute team in a few days.

Jakey Atz is playing second base for Providence instead of Red McDermott, who had been on the bag for a couple of weeks.

Grand Rapids has not won a game in Dayton since the season of 1909. The club was defeated ten times there last season.

Jack Compton had pitched the last thirty-four innings in which he has worked without allowing a score against him. He was pitched eleven and won nine games this season.

Lou Evans, of the Cardinals, thinks "Rube" Marquard, of the Giants, should be one of the greatest pitchers in the world. "He's got everything," says Lou. "he's left-handed, lopsided, wry-necked and crazy, and if that combination doesn't make a good pitcher, I'm a sailor."

Grover Cleveland Alexander has proved a great find for the Philadelphia Nationals. They got the young pitcher for a song by drafting him from Syracuse. He won the first five games out of six pitched and the one event he lost went ten innings. He not only struck out ten of the Pirates in one game, but fanned Clarke, Wagner and Miller in succession.

Big Jim Vaughn, Chase's crack left-hander, is improving right along after his illness, and will probably be able to work in a short time. However, the young manager is letting him take it easy so that he will be good and right when he goes into the box.

Ed Walsh earns his salary every season by stopping batting rallies in games which other members of the White Sox staff have started. No pitcher in the country is so successful in preventing disaster for his team when it is threatened as Walsh, and he works these short sessions without ever interfering with his taking his regular turn on the rubber.

President Taylor, of the Boston Americans, is peeved. The Red Sox are using eighteen balls a game. "If you think we get all we want of them for nothing, I'd like to have you pay the bills for the baseballs we use this year," said President Taylor. "Last year, during the seventy-seven games we played at home, we used $1,400 worth of baseballs, which give some idea of how many are used in a season.

That short, stubby chap with the amazing wallop, traveling under the name of "Ping" Bodie, is in disguise. He's really Francesto Sanguineta Pizola. No, this is not the title of a mountain in Central Asia, nor that of a hero of the Dark Ages. It is merely the real name of "Ping" Bodie, Italian slugger from California, now wearing a Comiskey uniform, and collecting money for breaking fences and pitchers' reputations.

COME IN BY A SIDE DOOR.

Canadian Judge Says Aliens Abuse Naturalization Privileges.

St. Catherines, Ont., June 14.—At the opening of the court of general sessions here County Judge Carman created something of a sensation by refusing applications made by several foreigners for naturalization papers.

"Many of these people," said the judge, "come here and ask for naturalization papers, though they never intend to become citizens of Canada. They simply use the certificates of citizenship for commercial purposes and aiding them to get in and out of the United States."

The judge cited the case of a man to whom naturalization papers had been granted some time ago and who asked for another certificate because the other had been worn out. The judge was of the opinion the certificate had been loaned other foreigners traveling between Canada and the United States.

Recipe For One Cool Man

If we number you, like ourselves, as "unfortunate," since we cannot hike to the mountains or hie to the shore, let's see if we can bring the coolness of the water's edge to the city. Here's the recipe:

1 staple Panama hat.
1 silk soft shirt, with French cuffs.
1 thin gauze lisle union suit.
1 blue rumchunda tie.
1 calf skin black belt.

SPATZ HAS GONE TO JOIN PARKER

Will Look Over Ground and Prepare for Return of Team.

PENDRY IS IN CHARGE

John Jacob Spatz, half owner of the Grand Rapids franchise, left Fort Wayne last night to look over his new possessions in company with Dr. Harley Parker, his business partner, and they will make preparations for the return of the club to its old home.

There is an item of park rent to be settled up along with some other bills that are to be looked after and the new park proposition needs attention so that the club can return on a solid footing and get down to its regular schedule.

Harry Martin has gone to Pittsburg to see Owner Barney Dreyfuss and Manager Fred Clarke. He was here for a short time yesterday and reiterated his statement that he does not want to play ball at Terre Haute and he will endeavor to secure the permission of the Pirate magnates to remain at Grand Rapids, which is his home.

Friction that grew out of charges made by Parker that he was trying to disrupt the club and buy the franchise cheap has all been eliminated and he is now ready to get back in the game as soon as he recovers and to give the owners the best he has in stock.

Speaking of the future of the club at Grand Rapids Dr. Parker is quoted in The Herald as saying:

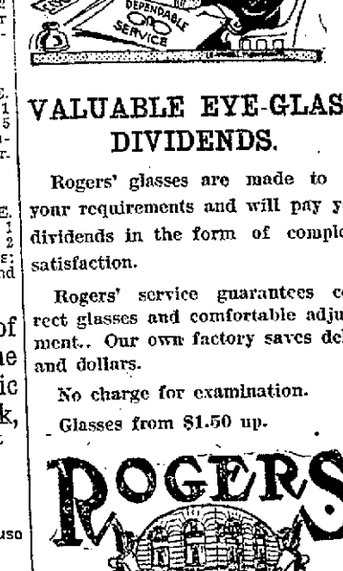
"I had a winning combination when we went away," said Parker. "We'll have another within ten days. We have money now to buy some players, and I'm as well aware as anyone of just what we're lacking. We'll have another good pitcher or two and a strong sticker in left field.

"Terre Haute cannot, in any event, take Martin for their claim against the club for Murray. He is exempt, as are Wickland and Gray. They cannot take any player until the end of the season, but must name the man by July 1.

"My partner, Spatz, is a live wire and a good business man. He will probably be up here next week to look over the situation, and I haven't a doubt that work on the downtown park will speedily begin. There isn't a better baseball city in the Central than Grand Rapids, and we're going to stick right here. If there is anyone here that doesn't like us we'll compel them to like us. We'll have a team that will go with the best of them. The boys have stuck by me loyally and will continue to do so. The reports that I even considered transferring to Danville, Springfield or Gary were pure fiction on the part of Indiana correspondents. I wouldn't trade my Grand Rapids prospects for those of half a dozen towns like those named.

"I'm here to stay. We'll be squared away and going strong by the 21st, when Zanesville comes here to open the series."

THAT STAR.



"The play reminds me of the three wise men who followed a star?"

"What was her name?"

DETROIT OFFERS NESS TO LOCALS

Casey Says He Can Not Use Him as Clancy Fills the Job.

PITCHERS ALL HERE

Secretary Frank J. Navin, of the Detroit club has offered Ness, the first baseman Fort Wayne was after earlier in the season, to Manager Casey, but he will not be signed as Clancy is filling the first base job in good style and hitting the ball regularly and the infield combination is working too well to break it up with a new player.

The offer indicates that Del Gainor will soon be back in the game as Ness was held in reserve, pending the outcome of the injury to the regular first baseman.

All of the pitchers are still on the local squad and there has been no dicker for any of them. Not a man on the staff will be turned loose, as all of them are good enough for the other teams in the Central league and it is likely that they can be placed with strings attached to them or sold outright to some of the clubs in need of good hurlers.

Curly Blount reported this morning and while his injured leg is not just in as good condition as he would like to have it he is able for duty and can fill his place in the outfield unless it is determined to give him a rest and put McLafferty in center temporarily.

Owner Claude H. Varnell expects to join his club here in the course of a few days and it is likely that any deals in contemplation will be held up until he gets here to consult with his manager. He has been detained in Wheeling by important business and has not had an opportunity to see his club work for several weeks and there are two or three players under his banner who he has never seen in action.

Rain at noon today indicated a possible postponement of the second game of the Grand Rapids series and in event the grounds are not in condition for play a double-header will be staged, beginning at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The club has not had a postponement at home so far.

EFFORT TO SAVE IS A BOOMERANG

IN MAJOR LEAGUES

Manager Jimmy Burke was the victim of what is regarded as a strategtic move to save the game at Milwaukee yesterday when he pulled Cleon Webb out to let McCarthy hit for him in a pinch and then sent Schlitzer in.

The latter was literally slaughtered and five runs were made off him in the eighth inning. Webb had pitched high-class ball and held the Brewers to one run, while he was in the box.

Christy Mathewson succeeded in stopping the Cincinnati club after it had scored a couple of victories over the Giants.

Jim Vaugh got back into the game at New York and won over Cleveland with Kaler pitching.

The Browns got to Eddie Plank for six hits, but they did not yield a run and Philadelphia hung up a shutout.

Golden, Sallee, Harmon and Steele were sent by Roger Bresnahan against Philadelphia yesterday before the Cardinals finally landed a victory. Jack Rowan and Bob Ewing were both used by the Quakers.

Max Carey got a double in the game for Pittsburg and waited until he got a pass that advanced McKechnie to second, so he could score the winning run on Clarke's hit.

ELKHART COMPLIES WITH STATE RULES

All But Two Requirements Followed by Indiana City—Fire Risks Greatly Lowered.

Decatur, Ind., June 14.—All of the cities of the Fort Wayne M. E. district are represented at the annual convention of the Women's Home Missionary societies, which started in this city last evening. Many of the officers and a few of the delegates arrived in the city yesterday and attended the meeting held at the First M. E. church last evening, but the majority of the visitors came to the convention today. Several hundred guests are in the city.

Mrs. John Parrish, chairman of the assignment committee, with her assistants, Mrs. Daniel Beery and Mrs. John Meyers, were at the church yesterday afternoon, and delegates not already assigned to homes for entertainment were received there and then escorted to their several places, but the greater number had already been assigned and were met at their trains by the hostesses. Today the local auxiliary entertained the visitors at dinner served in the lecture room of the church, this being a buffet lunch served by the local Queen Esther circle.

While the session opened last evening, the real business part of the convention did not begin until this morning. The speaker for last evening was Mrs. Anna Elder, superintendent of the Rebecca McClasky home, at Boaz, Ala. This home is supported by the general Woman's Home Missionary society of the M. E. church, the local society paying its apportionment, and the talk of Mrs. Elder last evening brought before the district societies practical knowledge of the conditions there and their part in the doing of the good work.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH MEETING.

Eel River Conference Starts Tuesday —Hundreds in Attendance.

Bluffton, Ind., June 14.—Last evening at 7:30 o'clock the first session of the joint convention of the Eel River Christian Conference churches and their various auxiliary societies was held at the Six Mile Christian church, southeast of Bluffton, of which the Rev. G. B. Garner is pastor. The convention will extend over today and Thursday, and will come to a close Thursday night.

The Six Mile church is easily accessible, on account of the convenience of transportation offered by the B. G. & C. traction line, and it is expected that several hundred will be in attendance, including many from this city.

For dinners and suppers Wednesday and Thursday the Ladies' Aid society will serve meals to the delegates and the ministers and their wives, with charges to others who may be served.

The singing at the convention is in charge of Walter Klinger, of Harrod, Ohio.

DECATUR TO GET BANK.

Decatur, Ind., June 14.—According to a dispatch recently received, this city will soon have a postal savings bank. Two banks will be started in Indiana July 10; one at Clinton and the other at this place.

DISTRICT MEETING OPENS AT DECATUR

Women's Home Missionary Societies Holding Annual Convention—Large Attendance.

Elkhart, Ind., June 14.—With the exception of one or two specifications, this city has complied with all of the requirements laid down by the Indiana inspection bureau relative to placing the city in a more favorable fire insurance classification with the best protected cities of the state.

Twenty-five specifications were made in the recommendations from the inspection department and all but two of them have been complied with or are now under consideration.

Two of the provisions which the city has not yet complied with are one recommending an additional service truck manned by six men, and the removal of the present truck to an outlying station. Also the installation of additional fire alarm boxes in districts where needed. It is believed, however, that the securing of the auto fire engine will offset the recommendation for a new service truck. It is the intention to install the additional fire alarm boxes as soon as the city's financial condition is such that the expenses can be incurred without hampering the city.

Two of the recommendations which are now under consideration are suggestions for ordinances. One of these recommendations is that the council should make an ordinance requiring all overhead wiring within the congested district to be placed under ground and provide ample authority for keeping a tidy and clean condition of premises. The other is an ordinance governig the storage of volatile oil ad explosives.

POSTMASTER GETS ORDERS.

Kendallville, Ind., June 14.—The postal saving which the government has assigned for trial in this city, will be placed in operation July 5, according to official information received from the postal saving system at Washington, D. C., this morning by Postmaster C. C. Weingart. In the meantime Postmaster Weingart will be provided with the necessary supplies, consisting of certificates of deposit, cards, stamps and other material, from the Bank Note company, of New York, together with all instructions.

PLAN SETTLERS' CELEBRATION.

Columbia City, Ind., June 14.—President H. A. Schumaker and Secretary S. F. Trembley, of the Old Settlers' association, will call a meeting of business men and old settlers soon to complete a program for this year. Plans for the event are now being quietly worked out by the officers. The date will be Thursday, August 17, and the celebration promises to be the biggest and best yet held.

MILLER DENIES GUILT.

Auburn, Ind., June 14.—Vern Miller, charged with attempting to murder his cousin, Forrest Miller, south of Ashley, was arraigned in court Tuesday. He pleaded not guilty and in default of $2,000 bond returned to the county jail. He is in better physical and mental condition than he has been.

READY FOR MARDI GRAS.

Winona Festival to Be Held Friday Evening.

Warsaw, Ind., June 14.—Captain F. B. Pine and his workmen have now about completed all plans for the lake spectacles and other features of the Mardi Gras day, next Friday, at Winona lake. The White Way has been completed and the court of honor is ready. The reserved seats have been erected and new fencing has been placed about the Stadium, which will be enclosed.

The White Way is built in the canal fronting the Stadium. White pillars are placed along the banks, each topped with streamers. At the south end of the White Way is a big arch, spanning the canal. At the end of the "Story of the Blue Moon," the fairy story to be given Friday evening, this arch will be illuminated. Wires have been strung along both banks of the canal, and hundreds of lights will be placed along the White Way.

The finishing touches are being put on the plans at this time. The whale, which has been built for two weeks, has now received his whale coloring. The painting was completed Monday afternoon, and fins were placed so that they will move and help to carry the big fish through the water.

FOUNDATION STARTED.

Auburn, Ind., June 14.—As an evidence of the progress that Contractor Goodall is making in the construction of the new court house, workmen were today engaged in laying concrete for the foundation of the large structure. The concrete is mixed in a large mixing machine and taken to the foundation in wheelbarrows. Many spectators watched the work today and since the excavating is done and work has commenced on the foundation the rapid progress being made is fully realized by the townspeople. The large derrick in the center of the square is nearly completed.

MONROE PLANS CELEBRATION.

Monroe, Ind., June 14.—Business men of this place are planning on a great celebration for July 4. The program has not as yet been completed, but will be ready within a few days. Several good speakers will be on the program for the afternoon. Many attractions including an industrial parade, automobile parade and motorcycle races will also be features.

BIG CRACKERS BARRED.

Warsaw, Ind., June 14.—The city council passed an ordinance at the meeting Monday evening limiting the size of the coming Fourth of July firecracker to two inches in length. This refers to use and sale. This is in line with giving a fairly sane Fourth. Just how the "unlerings" shall be used will also have a tendency to danger and annoyance.

The woman of today who has good health, good temper, good sense, bright eyes and a lovely complexion, the result of correct living and good digestion, wins the admiration of the world. If your digestion is faulty Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will correct it. For sale by all dealers.

THE SHOP AND RAIL NEWS

VOTE AGAINST THE LEADERS

Shopmen Displeased With Methods of Federation in Strike.

WABASH INCREASES YARD FACILITIES

Adds Another Engine and Crew to the Force—Shop News.

Pittsburg, June 14.—Pennsylvania railroad shopmen, at Pitcairn last evening at a meeting, took the strike situation into their own hands and established a precedent by declaring war against the American Federation of Labor which a month ago they had been induced to join and by whose leaders, it is declared, the strike was caused. Sentiment, it is said, was unanimous in favor of dissolving relationship with the Federation immediately, but cooler men induced the strikers to wait until this afternoon, when the proposition can be put before a committee of strikers from various points on the Pennsylvania railroad.

The meeting was held in Odd Fellows hall, Pitcairn, by a committee of five appointed last Monday at a meeting of 500 workmen. The members are David Rodgers, W. G. Woomer, H. A. Baker, John E. White and W. J. Harshberger. This committee visited Frank Paquin, Arthur E. Ireland and T. H. Flynn in this city yesterday afternoon and after outlining their plan of action, invited the three Federation organizers to attend last night's meeting in Pitcairn. The organizers are said to have refused.

SENT PATROLMEN EAST.

Twelve Men Leave City to Join Pennsy Force.

Twelve big, husky fellows left the city on Pennsylvania train No. 24 last night for Pittsburg, where they will report to Chief Inspector Baker, of the Pennsylvania police department, for assignment as patrolmen on the lines which make up the Pennsylvania Northwest and Southwest systems. These men were secured through the efforts of Capt. H. C. Stoll, who said this morning: "This is one of the largest parties of patrolmen sent east by myself, but it has no special significance. I presume I have sent over 100 men to the eastern divisions for police work during the past three or four years and some of the men now occupy high positions in the ranks. If the men who went last evening are to do guard duty in strike districts I have not been informed of it. In fact, I have no official information that there is any labor troubles on the lines west of Pittsburg at present. So far as I know there were no patrolmen sent east on the trains yesterday morning, as reported." Capt. Stoll has been hiring men for patrol service for the past six or seven weeks. A few have been retained here to fill his depleted ranks and others have gone to other divisions of the lines west of Pittsburg.

QUITS SHOP WORK.

George H. Judy Resigns Position With B. & O.

A Pennsylvania shopman who has just returned from the east brings the word that George H. Judy has resigned the position of general foreman of the blacksmith shop of the Baltimore and Ohio at Glenwood, Pa., which he held for several years. It is understood that Mr. Judy intends to remain out of shop work and that he is considering other business. Mr. Judy resided in Fort Wayne a number of years and has a wide acquaintance here. While in this city he was foreman of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, a position now occupied by George W. Szink.

ADDING ANOTHER CREW.

Wabash Increases Its Yard Force at Fort Wayne.

As a result of an improvement in freight traffic and particularly in local business, the Wabash will tonight place another switch engine and crew in service in the Fort Wayne yards. The crew will be composed of Conductor A. Beltz and Switchmen D. E. Wolf and W. Worman. The engine crew will be taken from the extra ranks, but the assignments had not been made up to noon today. This addition will give the Wabash three day yard crews and three night crews. There were formerly three day and two night crews in service.

MINISTERS' PLANS FAIL.

The efforts of the ministers to settle the differences between the striking Pennsylvania shopmen at Pitcairn have failed, according to the Pittsburg Post. At a meeting Monday the strikers rejected the proposition for settlement secured by the ministers from the Pennsylvania officials on the grounds that it contained no concessions and that the only difference between it and the proposition submitted by the railway company at the beginning of the trouble ws in the phraseology. The absence of news from the strike is taken to mean that there has been no material change in the situation.

Lee L. Casner, the Wabash brakeman who fell from the top of a box car at Danes Friday night, is still confined in the hospital in Peru, though there were no bones broken and no other visible injuries of series nature. He was still unconscious yesterday, but is improving. Casner is twenty-one years old and has been employed by the road a year.

WANT EVANSVILLE LINE.

The Pennsylvania is said to be negotiating a deal by which it expects to get entrance into Evansville. The company is dickering to get control of the Evansville and Indianapolis road, which is operated by the Evansville and Terre Haute and which has never been a paying proposition. The desire of the Pennsylvania, it is said, to get into Evansville has been intensified by the near completion of the Big Four's new line into that city. The Evansville and Terre Haute stockholders will have their annual meeting July 20 and if the alleged plan of the Pennsylvania is to be carried out, it will be consummated at that meeting.

ROBBED IN A BOX CAR.

S. W. Fleming, of Stoughton, Mass., a representative of the Goodyear Rubber company, was robbed of $20 while riding in a box car on the Nickel Plate last week. Andy McCarroll and Herman Seible are in jail at Findlay, charged with the robbery. Fleming says he was in the box car with these two men and presenting two revolvers at his head, compelled him to turn over the money. The thieves left the car at McComb and took a trolley car for Findlay. Fleming telegraphed to the police chief at that place and the men were arrested when the car reached Findlay.

TO MEET LAW REQUIREMENTS.

At the meeting of the Wabash employes last night to further discuss the organization of a Relief union, the constitution and by-laws was given a second reading and some changes ordered to meet the requirements of the federal and state laws on such matters. The shopmen seem to be in favor of the organization and the union will start out with a charter membership of upwards of 200. The next meeting will be held Wednesday night at Strodel's hall and at it officers may be elected.

TOM PRITCHARD HERE.

Thomas Pritchard, of Billings, Mont., is here to spend a part of his summer vacation with his relatives and friends. Mr. Pritchard is general foreman of the Northern Pacific erecting shop in Billings. He is the son of Thomas Pritchard, the veteran molder at the Bass works, and spent the greater part of his life here, learning the machinists' trade at the Bass works and working there and in other shops as a journeyman machinist several years afterwards. He called at the shops this morning to see his former comrades.

WANT STONY ISLAND SHOPS.

E. S. Baker, J. A. Lechler and C. W. Koenig have been appointed a committee from the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor to look into a proposition to endeavor to get the Nickel Plate company to bring its Stony Island shops to Fort Wayne. The committee will take the matter before the Commercial club, asking that body to interest itself in the movement. Some years ago it was believed the Nickel Plate officials had the removal of the shops under consideration, but nothing that indicates any intention of that kind has developed lately.

MINIMUM FREIGHT RATE.

The question of rising the minimum charge of freight packages from 25 to 35 cents will be thrashed out a meeting before the railroad commission at Indianapolis Thursday, June 29. When the railroads proposed the change the the commission held it up thirty days and now the railway companies must prove the necessity for such change before it will be allowed. An Indianapolis paper says that about every road in the state will have a representative at the hearing.

TWO SHOPMEN HURT.

B. L. Thomas, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, sustained an injury to his right side yesterday, while at work. He was attended by the company surgeon and then sent to his home, 1006 Lincoln avenue. Another accident at the shops was the falling from an engine of L. Bell, a fireman at one of the engines at the power plant. He will be unable to work for a few days.

WILL ENTERTAIN SHOPMATES.

Edward W. Seibert, the Pennsylvania machinist whose marriage last August was announced in yesterday's Sentinel to the surprise of all of his friends, sent a box of cigars over to the boys this morning with the invitation to a "stag" party as soon as he and Mrs. Seibert were located in their new home. Mr. Seibert was off duty this morning arranging for the move into his new house.

BOILERMAKERS RESIGN.

Four boilermakers—W. F. Whalen, J. F. Somers, J. R. Cropp and M. C. LaFlare—resigned their positions at the Wabash shops this morning and will leave the city. J. N. C. Remmert, a boilermaker's helper, and Frank Greben and Shoney Mur, laborers, took employment at the Wabash shops this morning.

PETER CARTER OUT.

Passenger Engineer Peter Carter, of the Pennsylvania, who was severely ill for awhile, was out on the streets this morning in his automobile for the first time since he was taken sick. He will soon be able to report for work.

GOES EAST ON BUSINESS.

A. L. Hadley, at the head of the engineering department of the Fort Wayne Electric works, left this afternoon for the east on a business trip which will cover a period of seven or eight days. He will visit Lynn, Mass.; Schenectady and New York city.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Dr. G. M. Leslie went to Crestline this morning on business for the Bass works.

Boilermaker E. Chase is sick and absent from the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

C. E. Bradley, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, is off duty on account of an injured eye.

M. Weichart, of the Pennsylvania copper shop, is off duty on account of the death of a relative.

William Klingmann, superintendent of the foundry department of the Bass works, went to Chicago yesterday on business for the company.

J. W. Loney, who represented the local union at the steam fitters convention at Cincinnati, has returned. The next convention will be held in Toronto, Canada.

Engineer T. E. Short, of the Nickel Plate, has entered St. Joseph hospital for treatment for an ailment that has troubled him for some time. His condition is not serious.

Trainmen report great activity in the hay fields in the vicinity of Coesse. The crop of clover and timothy is unusually early this year and in some places quite abundant.

Yesterday E. W. Hans, a blacksmith at the Pennsylvania shops, had one of his fingers badly bruised and cut when it was caught between a heavy wrench and a mud ring.

Foreman George Swart, of the air brake department of the Wabash shops, and his wife were hosts at a surprise party Monday night, in honor of their wedding anniversary.

H. K. Miles, of the Burlington; S. A. Williams and E. Schreyver, of the Queen and Crescent, traveling freight agents, were calling on shippers and local freight agents this morning.

Next Sunday Machinist J. A. Lechler, of the Wabash, will endeavor to arrange a ball game in Toledo between the Wabash shop league team and a team composed of machinists at that city.

Capt. H. M. Deihl, who has charge of the air brake instruction department of the Pennsylvania, went to Pittsburg on train 24 last night and will be engaged there on special work until Saturday.

W. G. Zahrt, of the Bowser company, left over the Wabash this morning for Albany, N. Y. President T. S. Staples, of the International Business college, was a passenger on the same train, bound for Kingston, Ont.

Machinist Frank Frary, of the Wabash shops, is entertaining his daughter, Miss Ines Frary, of Los Angeles, Cal., who arrived here yesterday for a visit with her parents. Miss Frary has been in Los Angeles for the past four years.

Adolph K. Hofer, a Purdue student who for the past two years has spent the summer vacation working for the Pennsylvania, this morning took up the work of signal repairman under Signal Supervisor Bartholome. Mr. Hofer was clerk of that department a few years ago.

Peru Chronicle: "The Wabash has delivered a gondola and a flat car to the Winona traction line for use in shipping logs to Fort Wayne. The Winona company will get the shipment of logs from farmers north of Peru and will turn the consignment over to the Wabash here for its destination."

Diedrich Muellenbruck, the retired Pennsylvania car builder, who has been visiting relatives in Pleasantville, O., for the past two or three weeks, will return home the latter part of the week. His daughter, Miss Minnie Muellenbruck, has gone to Pleasantville to join her father and accompany him on the journey home.

Mrs. Curtis, wife of Machinist H. M. Curtis, of the Nickel Plate round house, who has been very ill for several weeks at her home, 1422 Sherman street, will not have to undergo the ordeal of a surgical operation. She now gives promise of speedy recovery without resorting to surgery. Mr. Curtis has been off duty much of the time since his wife took sick.

S.S.S. CURES RHEUMATISM

The usual cause of Rheumatism is an excess of uric acid in the blood which weakens and acidifies this vital fluid, and prevents the proper amount of nourishment being afforded the muscles, nerves and tendons. The pains and aches of Rheumatism may be temporarily relieved by the use of liniments, hot applications, and other external treatments, but the disease cannot be permanently benefited by such measures and is bound to become chronic and dangerous if such things are depended upon alone. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism in the only way it is possible to cure the disease. It goes down into the blood, and removes the uric acid from the circulation. When S. S. S. has cleansed and purified the blood the pains and aches cease, all inflammation disappears, and every symptom of Rheumatism passes away. Book on Rheumatism and medical advice free. *S. S. A FARMER'S ACT

A farmer near Fort Wayne drove five miles the other day to pay a debt, losing half a day's time doing so.

Had he been a depositor of this bank, he would have mailed his check at an expense of two cents and spent the half day upon his farm.

It's an extravagance, a waste, not to use the facilities of a bank. It's a double extravagance and waste not to use

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., June 14.—Active selling today pounded down the price of wheat. The main idea of traders on the bear side that was barring some unforeseen disaster to the spring crop, the market would ultimately descend to an export basis, more favorable advices regarding the outlook for growth in Russia and the fact that cheaper offers were being made from there tended also to discourage the bulls. A 20c cut in the price of flour counted likewise against the value of wheat. Opening figures were a shade lower to ¾c up. July started at 87⅛c to 87¼c, a sixteenth down, to the same amount higher than last night, touched 87⅝c and then fell to 86⅞c.

A wet forecast resulted in a general rush to sell corn, both longs and shorts joined the stampede. July opened ¼c to ⅝c off at 54⅛c to 54¼c, but steadied around 54¼c.

There was a broad trade in oats, the market, however, sagging with wheat and corn. July started a shade to ⅛c to ¼c down, at 38c to 38⅛c, rallied to 38⅛@38¼c, and then sank to 37¾c.

The big run of hogs west weakened provisions. First sales were 5c lower to a shade up with September delivery $15.00 for pork, $8.25 for lard and $8.12½@8.15 to $8.15 for ribs.

WILL GET EARLY START SATURDAY

WORK IN MORNING

Athletes who come to Fort Wayne for the big Kreis turnfest will follow the welcoming exercises Friday evening by getting an early start Saturday morning in the field contests at the Driving park, which are the chief features of interest to the visiting societies. These will begin at 7 o'clock Saturday morning and it will be necessary for spectators who desire to see the entire program to be on the ground early.

The black, red and gold of the turners is rapidly breaking out in the decorations in the down town district and by the time the societies begin to arrive the display will be an elaborate one.

Order of Competition.

The competition Saturday morning will start at 7 o'clock with the machine and free exercises, followed in order by the three consecutive broad jumps, the shot put and the far high jump. Twenty minutes is allowed each society for each exercise. The first division, comprising teams having more than 250 members, will start in the following order:

About Stilts.

Walking on stilts is not a common form of amusement in this country, and yet we do occasionally see a crowd of boys following one or two of their number who are lucky enough to have found an old pair of stilts or have contrived to make some. How high and mighty these boys feel as they walk through the air far above the heads of their friends!

This is boy play with them. They never dream that there are several countries in the world where men, women and children go about their affairs the entire year on high stilts. In Gascony, in France, there are hundreds of acres of waste land that would be absolutely impassable in wet weather if the people did not walk on stilts. They carry bundles and baskets as easily as if they were walking in the ordinary way. In fact, they are so accustomed to the use of stilts five feet long that they think no more of walking in this manner than American children do of wearing their shoes and stockings.

Feet Tired-- So Tired?

TIZ Makes Sick Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them.

TIZ acts at once and makes tired, aching, swollen feet remarkably fresh and sore proof.

It's the sure remedy, you know, for everything that gets the matter with your feet. It's for sore feet and for sweaty, bad-smelling feet, and for corns, callouses and bunions, too.

"For years I have been troubled with sore and tender feet; suffered intense pains. Have had the assistance of physicians without relief. I bought a box of TIZ, which worked a perfect cure, as it has with a great many of my friends. I would not be without it. All it requires is to be known to be universally used." A. F. Dreutzer, Chicago.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

The Game of Animals.

One player is blindfolded, and the other players station themselves around the room. The blind man feels his way around until he touches some one, and that person must at once give an imitation of some animal sound—a horse neighing, a donkey braying, a cat, dog, fowl, pig, bird, etc. The blind man must guess the name of his prisoner by the voice. If he guesses right the prisoner becomes the blind man. If not the blind man releases the prisoner and begins again.
